Understanding the Consequences of Substances and Addictive Behaviors on the Human Brain

Keynote Speaker

Dr. Stephen L. Dewey received his Ph.D. from the University of Iowa. He completed his postdoctoral fellowship in the Neurology Department at Stony Brook University. During his 23-year tenure at Brookhaven National Laboratory, he conducted research on the effects of addictive drugs on the human brain. In 1992, he joined the faculty in the Psychiatry Department, School of Medicine at New York University. In 2014, he accepted an appointment as the Director of Research Education at Seafield Center, the largest in-patient treatment facility on Long Island. Dr. Dewey has published more than 250 peer-reviewed scientific research articles, book chapters, and abstracts.
