About our Speaker. . .

Carlton Hall is the President and CEO of Carlton Hall Consulting LLC, a consulting firm designed to provide customized solutions and enable measurable change for communities, organizations, families and individuals. Carlton spent twelve years with the Community Anti-Drug Coalitions of America

Carlton Hall, MHS

(CADCA) serving in several leadership positions and including most recently, Acting Vice President, Training Operations and Acting Director for CADCA's National Coalition Institute responsible for design and implementation. Carlton also supported CADCA's International Programs in partnership with the US State Department's International Narcotics Law Enforcement division (INL), managing training programs in Kenya, South Africa and Ghana. Carlton is one of the primary architects of CADCA's National Coalition Academy, a year-long coalition development program designed to increase the effectiveness of communities in drug-demand reduction producing population level outcomes.

With more than 25 years of experience in the fields of government relations, social services and prevention science, Carlton first gained national prominence as a Communities That Care® Project Manager, for the Channing Bete Company. He received his master's in Human Services from Lincoln University in Pennsylvania. While in Philadelphia, he worked as the Crime and Public Safety manager for the Philadelphia Empowerment Zone of the Mayor's Office of Community Services, managing science-based prevention programming in the neighborhoods of Philadelphia.

He was also responsible for the design and implementation of the award-winning "Operation Makeover," an effective community-wide intervention addressing blatant open-air drug trafficking and increasing levels of juvenile violence and substance abuse offenses. Operation Makeover was recognized by Vice President Al Gore and featured in "Programs That Work," a publication by the Office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).
