Conversation Tips for Youth Talking with a Safe Adult

- "I want to talk to you about something but I don't want you to get mad."
- "I think I might have a problem with vaping/drugs/alcohol." If you aren't ready to talk about it with the safe adult yet, you can tell them that you need to talk to someone like a therapist or a doctor, but you're just not ready to talk to them about it yet.
- "I learned that family biology can mean a person is more at risk to become addicted to drugs or alcohol. Is that something that exists in our family?"
- Try to find a time to talk when your safe adult can give you their attention, or wait for a news story or commercial that addresses the topic to come on and start a conversation based on that story.

POPULATION RESOURCES

The National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) has a website with useful resources for people who identify as:

Asian American or Pacific Islander Black or African American Hispanic or Latinx Indigenous LBGTQI+ Differently-Abled Persons

Conversation Tips for a Safe Adult Talking with Youth

- "Have you been in situations where there were opportunities for drug or alcohol use? Did you feel pressured?"
- "I have been noticing something [on the news/radio/social media/neighborhood/family/friends, etc.] that I want to talk with you about."
- "Sometimes family biology can mean a person is more at risk to become addicted to drugs or alcohol, and I wanted to talk to you about our family history and what you should keep in mind."
- "There are times where people use drugs or alcohol so they don't have to deal with bad feelings. How have hard parts of your life affected you?"

What are the "levels of care?" place in an OASAS-certified treatment setting with 24-hour medical coverage and oversight provided to Detoxification: "Detox" refers to the treatment of moderate withdrawal symptoms and non-acute physical or psychiatric complications.

Inpatient: Inpatient takes place in an OASAS-certified treatment setting with 24-hour medical coverage and oversight provided to individuals with significant acute medical, psychiatric and substance use disorders with significant associated risks.

Outpatient: While remaining at home, working and functioning in the community, a consumer may attend individual, group or family focused treatment and work toward personal goals. This may include less intensive involvement or may require multiple visits per week.

Residential: Individuals are provided a safe living environment with a high degree of behavioral accountability. Services include medical and clinical oversight of chronic but stable medical and psychiatric symptoms and conditions in a community program including an outpatient Substance Use Disorder treatment program.
